Speak!

Shouted Michel-angelo.

In 1515, young Michelangelo finally completed the sculpture he had been carving for 2 years. After standing in front of his sculpture for a while, he took a few steps back, he threw away his hammer and shouted at the sculpture: “Now Speak!”

This is a story or a legend about the broken horn of Michelangelo's Moses, which is one of the most known sculptures in the world, carrying the gorgeousness of the sculpture for centuries. Having lived in the same period as Michelangelo did, Giorgio Vasari defined the Moses, which has “a genuine look beyond being just a piece of marble”, as “an immortal work of art that no other contemporary or old work can compete with”. Without any doubt, history has brought the name of the artists who created immortal works out of impeccable marble blocks into the present.

Elegance meets marble!

The masterpiece of the famous Italian sculptor Giovanni Strazza evokes admiration for the exquisite details of the veil spreading over the skin of the marble statue.

Having given a soft and light look to the marble, which is one of the stones difficult to process, Strazza went down in history with his masterpiece.

With an exquisite and genuine veil, the statue, which was believed to be completed in the early 1850' s, is one of the greatest masterpieces of marble carving.

A half a century old experience reflects upon the world.

The story of our passion for marble started in 1967. The importance we attach to supplying and sustaining quality material has allowed us to keep our business going for half a century and reach our present day by growing every passing year. Having started in a small workshop, our story continues in the Torbalı district of Izmir with a manufacturing facility serving in a total area of 22,000 square meters including an indoor area of 8,000 square meters.

- With a production capacity of 300,000 square meters and a cut to size capacity of 200.000 square meters, our facility allows us to represent our country in more than 50 countries in 5 different continents of the world.

The service building with a space of 2,000 square meters, where Beststein Turkey head office is also located, welcomes its guests with the elegance of the marble.

Blocks: where technology meets mastery

The elegant and precious structure of marble requires very delicate craftsmanship.

At the end of its story beginning from the soil, marble is processed by master hands in accordance with the area of use. Bringing together today's technology with the mastery gained through experience, our facilities enable the Anatolian marble to make an appearance all over the world.

The magnificent story of the Anatolian marble

Having ornamented the cultural life of numerous civilizations with its natural and historical texture, marble was the most important material creating the ancient cities in the Anatolian lands hosting approximately 40% of the world reserve. Passed down from the Phrygians to the ancient Greeks and Rome and from the Seljuks to the Ottomans, this cultural richness has given life to many monumental buildings that touched upon beliefs, emotions, and life.

Having illuminated the whole world with its light radiating over the west of Anatolia in 135 BC, the Celsus Library is one of the most unique structures made of the marble in this land. Having hosted and raised many scholars and thinkers for hundreds of years, it now inspires us to build the cities of the future.

From the streets
Emperor Hadrian walked on to present

*A large part of the city of Ephesus, the streets of which Hadrian, one of the greatest emperors of the Roman Republic about 2,000 years ago, walked on, was made of marble blocks.
While the blocks taken out of the Anatolian land gave life to the big city back then, the same blocks taken out of the same land with the same delicacy now give life to the cities of the future.*
